7 From Star Will Attend APA Convention

About this time of year the Arkansas public expects a certain week-end to find the newspaper offices practically deserted.

This is that week-end—when the Arkansas Press Association holds its convention at the Arlington Hotel, Hot Springs. Seven—a third of our staff—will represent The Star in convention proceedings Friday and Saturday.

For weekly papers convention-going is relatively easy. Having no edition to get out on convention days they just close up shop and leave. For dailies it's a different matter. Convention visits have to be staggered so Friday and Saturday editions can be prepared.

Your editor leaves for Hot Springs this Thursday noon on a pre-convention matter, a 4 p.m. meeting with the APA board of directors.

Advertising Manager Donal Parker and Mrs. Parker, and Circulation Manager C. M. Rogers, Jr., and Mrs. Rogers, will leave Friday morning to catch the first convention program, Friday noon luncheon.

Managing Editor George S. Smith and Mrs. Smith will follow Friday afternoon, in time for the Friday night dinner and the full Saturday program.

It never fails—no sooner do you start the vacation period but some one of the staff meets with an accident. Mrs. Alice Kate Baker, circulation bookkeeper, and "Boots" Smith, one of the pressman, started their vacations this week—and immediately our general bookkeeper, Miss Virginia Hiscott, met with an accident. She was mowing the yard at her home near Blevins when the mower threw a wire into her leg. That was last Sunday; she was operated on at Memorial Hospital, and won't be back on the job until Monday, July 3. Fortunately a former general bookkeeper, Mrs. Elizabeth Bobo, was available, and was called on to pinch hit for Virginia.

Reward for being honest 'not enough'

PERU, Ind. (AP) — Lowell F. Elliott says that being honest enough to return $500,000 he found in his field should be worth more than $10,000.

So the 61-year-old farmer turned down a $10,000 certified check American Airlines offered him Wednesday as a gift for returning ransom dropped by a hijacker who parachuted from a jetliner after taking it over at St. Louis and ordering it flown to Toronto last week-end.

"Looks like it ought to be worth more than what was offered for being honest," Elliott said. "After all, they gave that guy (the hijacker) $500,000."

Elliott said he would settle for $25,000, or 5 per cent of the ransom, but he added "10 per cent would be better."

He said he has gross income of about $7,000 yearly from his 119-acre farm. Elliott said any money he gets from the airline will go on the bills he is awaiting for fertilizer and soybeans.

However, after Elliott rejected the $10,000 offer, Frank W. Bodwell, district sales manager for American, returned to Indianapolis and said that whether the offer would be renewed or increased was up to airline officials in New York.

Death penalty outlawed by Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court held 5 to 4 today that the death penalty, as it is now used in the United States, violates the Constitution and cannot be imposed.

While the decision leaves the door open for legislatures to reinstate capital punishment in some circumstances, one of the nine opinions issued by the court said the immediate result is to remove the death sentences from the 600 condemned inmates across the land.

All nine justices filed statements of their views. In the majority were Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Thurgood Marshall, and with some reservations, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White. Dissenting were the four Nixon administration appointees, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, and Justices Harry A. Blackmun, Lewis F. Powell Jr., and William H. Rehnquist.

Reversed immediately by the decision were two death sentences for non-fatal rapes in Georgia and Texas and a death sentence for murder in Georgia.

Three of the justices, Douglas, Brennan and Marshall, concluded that the amendment outlaws the death penalty. Stewart generally agreed with them but said the situation might be different if a state legislature determined that forcible rape and murder could be deterred only with the death penalty upon everyone who commits those crimes. White, meanwhile, said the death penalty is imposed so infrequently it is very doubtful that it meets "any existing general need for retribution."

Set aside by the decision were:

1. The murder conviction of William H. Furman, a Georgia Negro convicted of slaying William J. Mickle Jr. of Savannah in 1968 while burglarizing the Mickle home.

2. The rape conviction of Lucious Jackson Jr., a 21-year-old Negro, convicted in 1968 of the non-fatal assault on a white woman in Chatham county.

3. The rape conviction of Elmer Branch, 19, for the non-fatal assault in 1967 on an elderly white woman in Vernon, Tex.

Here is how the majority was formed:

Douglas concluded capital punishment is incompatible with the concept of "equal protection" of the laws. That he found to be "implicit" in the

Not interested in being VP, Bumpers says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Wednesday he still is not interested in being the Democratic party nominee for vice president.

Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, frontrunner for the Democratic presidential nomination, said in Atlanta, Ga., that Bumpers and three other Southern governors would be considered for the second spot on the ticket.

The others were Reuben Askew of Florida, John West of South Carolina and Jimmy Carter of Georgia.

Asked what he thought of McGovern's remark, Bumpers said, "You know I'm not going to comment on that."

Bumpers is running for a second term as governor.

He said McGovern's rise to the role of leading candidate for the nomination was the result of "his willingness to say the same thing wherever he is" and "his apparent willingness" to back away from positions that he decided were unworkable.

Eighth Amendment.

Brennan based his judgment primarily on the theory that the death penalty "does not comport with human dignity." He also cited the Eighth Amendment.

Marshall found capital punishment to be "morally unacceptable" and "excessive" when measured against the Eighth Amendment's prohibition on cruel and unusual punishments.

Stewart concluded that the death penalty is now applied in a "wanton" and "freakish" manner.

White said the death penalty is invalid mostly because it is used infrequently and did not meet "any existing general need for retribution."

Burger, in dissent, said the decision leaves legislatures free "to carve out limited exceptions to a general abolition of the penalty." He said the court had gone "beyond the limits of judicial power," but added "while fortunately leaving some room for legislative judgment."

Blackmun, saying he yields "to no one in the depth of my distaste, antipathy, and indeed, abhorrence for the death penalty," nevertheless dissented because, he wrote, "I fear the court has overstepped."

Powell said none of the five opinions by the justices in the majority "provides a constitutionally adequate foundation for the court's decision." For the present, he said, the ruling "removes the death sentences previously imposed on some 600 persons awaiting punishment throughout the country."

Rehnquist said: "The court's judgment today strikes down a penalty that our nation's legislators have thought necessary since our country was founded."

Policeman is injured

Texarkana shootout leaves 1 man dead

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—A man quoted by officers as saying he was not afraid to die was killed today in a shootout inside the police station on the Arkansas side of this two-state city. One patrolman was wounded.

James E. Twitty, 44, struck by nine bullets, died before reaching a hospital.

Attendants said patrolman Mike Rachel was in fair condition after surgery for face wounds.

Desk Sgt. Robert Brush and other officers related these details:

Twitty, released from jail 90 minutes earlier after his wife posted bond for him on a driving while intoxicated charge, returned about 2:30 a.m. carrying two pistols.

He stepped inside, walked behind the booking desk with both weapons and told Brush, "You s.o.b., I'm going to kill you."

Brush leaned over, concealing the hand with which he held open a radio microphone switch, and talked to Twitty, who said he wanted the two policemen who had arrested him.

As Twitty stuck one of his guns into the sergeant's ear, two officers entered and the former prisoner leveled his pistol at the new arrivals. The two told him they were not the policemen who took him into custody.

While the officers again tried to reason with Twitty, Rachel kicked open an outer door and pointed his revolver at Twitty. Rachel and Twitty then fired at almost the same time.

A bullet which struck Rachel knocked him back out the door, and Twitty wheeled and fired at Brush.

Other officers directed a hail of gunfire at Twitty. They said he fell and twice arose and tried to shoot back. A subsequent count showed 19 shots were fired inside the police station, with only two or three from Twitty's guns.

After an inquest, a coroner entered a verdict of justifiable homicide in the death of Twitty.

Two soldiers are killed in action in VN

SAIGON (AP) — Two Americans were killed in action in Vietnam last week, 10 died due to nonhostile causes and 21 were missing in action, the U.S. Command reported. Another 22 were wounded.

This represented a sharp drop in the number of dead and wounded by comparison with the previous week but almost a 100 per cent increase in the missing. The casualties the week before were 8 killed in action, 18 dead from nonhostile causes, 11 missing in action and 27 wounded.

Officials say that most of the missing and the "nonhostile" deaths are due to air crashes.

The South Vietnamese command reported an increase in its casualties: 836 killed, 3,003 wounded and 280 missing compared to 724 killed, 2,529 wounded and 156 missing the week before. It said 3,260 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed, a slight increase.

Troops push into Quang Tri

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. helicopters landed more than 1,000 South Vietnamese marines on the coast east of Quang Tri City today while more than 20,000 other government troops pushed north into enemy-held Quang Tri Province.

South Vietnamese paratroopers were reported meeting moderate resistance but less than expected—in their drive on the western flank of the 10-mile front.

Late this afternoon, on the second day of the counter-offensive, the South Vietnamese forward positions formed a rough east-to-southwest arc between 6 and 12 miles from the provincial capital.

Forward elements had advanced six miles or more since the drive was launched. Reported casualties totaled 165 North Vietnamese and six South Vietnamese killed and 34 government troops wounded.

The marine assault force reportedly met no resistance at one landing zone and only small arms fire at another.

Near the center of the front along Highway 1, government troops reported killing 41 North Vietnamese and capturing several heavy weapons. They said they suffered no casualties.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel reported that one unit found a North Vietnamese T59 tank abandoned with the engine running.

The large number of heavy weapons captured, compared to a relatively small number of individual weapons, prompted one military source to speculate that the North Vietnamese are short of manpower.

Military sources said they were pleased by the progress up Highway 1.

"We had thought it would be a damn tough nut," said one. "They're doing very well; keep your fingers crossed," said Maj. Gen. Harold Cooksey, the senior U.S. military adviser in the region.

The B52 bombers kept up their support of the drive, dropping more than 1,500 tons of bombs on reported troop concentrations and staging areas in Quang Tri Province and 900 miles southwest of Hue, where military sources said the possibility of an attack "is still very real."

VISIT NARROW'S—Members of Girl Scout Troop 75 recently visited Cowhide Cove on Narrow's Lake. The troop leader is Mrs. Kenneth Petre and the assistant leader is Mrs. John Cox. Mr. and Mrs. Gail Sinyard and the husbands of the leaders also attended.

Rep. Mills to introduce new interstate bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills D-Ark., will introduce a measure today to add 7,500 miles to the interstate highway system, an aide said Wednesday.

State Highway Department officials have been concerned recently because Arkansas is paying more federal highway tax than it is receiving in federal highway funds.

Arkansas' 526 miles of interstate is virtually complete except for the Mills Freeway in Little Rock.

The interstate system was authorized in 1956 and established a system of 40,000 miles.

Senator charges banks hold stock in companies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lee Metcalf said today that some of the nation's largest banks hold huge hidden blocks of stock—perhaps even controlling interest—in many of the biggest U.S. corporations.

But these banks are difficult to identify, he said, because on stockholder lists they almost always appear under corporate pseudonyms, otherwise known as nominees or street names, for which translations are not readily available.

For example, Chase Manhattan Bank is rarely identified on stockholder lists. Instead, it appears under one of its 24 street names, a list that includes Clint, Cudd, Egger, Gooss, Gunn, Kane and Ring.

Metcalf, a Montana Democrat and a member of the Senate Government Operations Committee, made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery to the Senate.

The use of street names by large institutional investors leads to problems, Metcalf said, particularly in industries required by law to make public the names of large shareholders in annual reports to federal regulatory agencies.

For example, the Civil Aeronautics Board requires airlines to disclose stockholders with 5 per cent or greater interest.

"Reports filed with the CAB by airlines state that, as of the end of last year, Chase Manhattan held 6.5 per cent of the stock in TWA, 9 per cent of the stock in Eastern, 8.4 per cent of the stock in National and 7.5 per cent of the stock in American," Metcalf said.

But, he added, no Chase Manhattan holdings were listed by three other airlines, Northwest, United and Western.

"Nevertheless, Chase Manhattan holds more than 6 per cent of the common stock in each of those three airlines, according to letters I received recently from those companies," he said. "The bank holds the stock through two or more nominees in each instance."

The Securities and Exchange Commission says that generally an interest can exercise effective control of a corporation by holding as little as 10 per cent

President sets more controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon brought fresh fruits, eggs, vegetables and seafood under price controls for the first time today, but only after the first sale has been made by the farmer.

The White House said the action will affect about $12 billion worth of food transactions, or about 11 per cent of the food component of the consumer price index. The over-all figure is about 2.5 per cent of the entire index brought under controls for the first time.

The Price Commission recommended last week that Nixon remove the current exemption on raw agricultural products. But its recommendation extended to the farm level.

But the Cost of Living Council has been conducting an extensive study on how to deal with the rising cost of food and it acted after Nixon ordered it to come up with recommendations.

Reporters' presence disturbing

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Federal officials declined to talk in the presence of newsmen Wednesday, cutting short a meeting of the Pollution Control and Ecology Commission executive committee.

The committee was to meet with Pat Hudson, Martin Brittain and John Henderson of the Dallas office of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The subject was the commission's plan to implementing the national air quality standards. The EPA called the plan deficient and the meeting was arranged to resolve differences.

With committee members assembled, Roger Morris of the commission staff summoned the EPA officials, but returned and said, "They refuse to come in."

"Oh, hell, we aren't going to embarrass them," commission Chairman Carl Wright of Little Rock said.

Morris then succeeded in getting the EPA representatives into the room.

Death penalty verdict--

ed." He said the ruling had completely disregarded "judicial self-restraint."

Pros. Atty. Mahlon Gibson of Fayetteville said today's ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court that the death penalty is unconstitutional is a "kick in the teeth to law enforcement."

"I feel the death penalty has its place in our society," Gibson said when being informed of the decision.

Gibson prosecuted Daniel Lane Graham, 32, of Springdale, one of six men on death row in Arkansas.

Graham was convicted of first-degree murder in the execution-type slayings of two Springfield supermarket employees last summer. Graham allegedly robbed the store after hours and drove three of the grocery store employees to a county road, where he forced them to lie in a ditch and then shot each one.

One of the employees survived and managed to get help.

Previously Graham had been convicted of kidnapping a DeValls Bluff banker's wife.

Gibson said he felt his prosecution of Graham "has been almost for nothing."

He said there were extreme cases where the death penalty should be preserved and he said Graham's was one of those cases.

He said that in most cases, where a criminal receives a life sentence he is eventually released.

"If society could be assured that a person is sentenced for life and he will stay there for the rest of his life..." Gibson said. He said it was not fair to turn the habitual criminal loose on society.

"It upsets me," he said.

Gov. Dale Bumpers said that before he commented he wanted to read the Supreme Court's reasoning and determine the comprehensiveness of the ruling "to see if the states are left any flexibility."

He said the ruling would be "a very dramatic event in this country" if it declared all death penalties unconstitutional, but the decision left the door open for legislatures to reinstate capital punishment in some circumstances.

The governor has favored retention of the death penalty for "heinous crimes."

He said today he would include among these crimes the indiscriminate bombing of public places in which women and children are killed, skyjacking, mass murders in which there are two or more indiscriminate-type killings, and probably the slaying of policemen.

Supt. A. L. Lockhart of the Cummins Prison Farm said that the six on death row heard the supreme court decision on the radio.

He said the inmates were "relieved" and "glad it is over with."

Lockhart said the prisoners were concerned what their future would be.

There hasn't been an execution in the United States in five years. A ruling upholding the death penalty would not necessarily lead to mass executions and hangings. But it would wipe out the most consistent argument against capital punishment—that it is too cruel to be constitutional.

The three cases involve William H. Furman, convicted of murdering a Savannah, Ga., man during a household burglary; Lucious Jackson Jr., convicted of rape also in Chatham County, Ga., and Elmer Branch, convicted of rape in Wilbarger County, Tex.

Both rape victims are white. All three inmates whose appeals are before the court are black.

The death penalty is legal in 39 states and the District of Columbia, but eight of these have no prisoners condemned to execution. Of the 600, all but two are men. The women under death sentences are Marie Dean Arrington of Florida and Marilyn Dobrolenski of Pennsylvania.

Of the 600, a total of 517 were convicted of murder, 79 of rape and four of armed robbery. There are 329 blacks, 257 whites and 14 of other racial and ethnic backgrounds.

A year ago the court rejected, 6 to 3 challenges to death-penalty procedures. The ruling said that leaving to the jury's discretion the power to decide between life and death in capital cases does not violate the Constitution. Secondly, the court held then, the Constitution does not require separating the penalty phase of capital trials from the body of the trial.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

How low can blood sugar go?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—The first time I wrote you I didn't tell you what was really bothering me, but I will this time. I had a blood sugar test in the hospital and it went down to 40 so I have low blood sugar and I nearly passed out.

How low can it go? My temperature is always a point lower than normal, about 97 degrees and I have a headache most of the time. Is this part of low blood sugar? One doctor put me on a sugar free diet and the next said no special diet, just suck on hard candy when I feel tired. The protein diet makes my problem worse and the candy increases my energy and then I get the headaches. I have had this problem for several years. I have thought of suicide when I get very depressed but luckily someone has always been around me. All I want is some answers and I don't seem to be able to get them. I read all of your columns so I won't miss it.

Dear Reader—I know how distressed you must be. A short time ago I wrote five columns on the problem of low blood sugar which should cover most of the points you have raised. If you have missed them perhaps you can go to your local newspaper office where they have a file of their previous newspapers and look them up.

The best approach is not a strict protein diet nor using candy. I am not surprised that you have had trouble with both of these approaches. What you need is a good sensible diet. Eliminate concentrated sweets like sugar in coffee, syrup on hot cakes, and try to eat a diet based more on lean meats, lean poultry, and an adequate amount of vegetables and fruit. In brief, avoid the sugars and starches and be sure that you get sufficient protein and vegetables with roughage. This will go a long way toward helping your problem. Avoid sweet liquids. These pass directly through the stomach and are absorbed almost at once into the blood stream. This causes the blood sugar to go up sharply, then rebound to low levels.

There is a wide variation how low the blood sugar can be without causing trouble, but 40 is in the range to cause symptoms.

There are people who normally have a slightly lower temperature and I wouldn't worry about it. As a general rule animals with lower temperatures live longer than those with higher temperatures so you may actually live longer because of it.

There are some people who have reasons other than their diet for having low blood sugar. These include such things as an abnormal function of the pancreas and some of the endocrine glands, but I assume from your statement that you have had an examination that these problems have been eliminated.

Have questions about your blood sugar? If so, you'll want to read Dr. Lamb's booklet in which he answers your questions about this subject. Send 50 cents to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. Ask for "Low Blood Sugar" booklet.

"Ms" Isn't Mandatory

HELEN AND SUE: I read somewhere that "Ms" for Miss or Mrs. has been adopted and everyone will be using it. Say it isn't so! As long as I can remember I've been waiting to be called "Mrs." and now that my wedding day is near, I'm not too happy to know I may be just an un-descriptive "Ms." —AGAINST LIB TALK AGAINST:

It's still our choice, and I agree: "MRS." means a lot to a bride. I can't understand the big hassle over a couple of words, so let's call ourselves what comes happily. Okay? —SUE

DEAR AGAINST: If your bliss is in MRS. then give MS the biz. The changeover isn't official: MS is still used mostly by people who aren't sure whether you're Miss or Mrs. —HELEN

DEAR HELEN AND SUE: When you marry someone, you marry the person, not the family. At least that's what people say. But should you marry him if you can't stand his family?

I really love John and, when we're alone, everything is great. But that doesn't happen much because his folks are always planning things and having parties and anyone on the "outside" really feels left out.

They can be mean and cutting and he doesn't see it. But if I act that way to them, he thinks I'm terrible. Seems like I'm always

Vows exchanged in candlelight ceremony

The marriage of Miss Nancy Martindale and William Michael Tolleson was solemnized Friday night in the First United Methodist Church.

Parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. Jud B. Martindale. Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Tolleson, Jr. are parents of the bridegroom.

The nuptial music was presented by Luther Holloman, and Delbert Palmer sang "The Greatest of These Is Love" and "The Lord's Prayer." Officiating at the double-ring ceremony was the Rev. Everett Vinson. Vows were exchanged before an altar lighted with over two hundred candles entwined with greenery flanked and centered with baskets of flowers.

Dr. Martindale gave his daughter in marriage. She wore an ivory silk organza and retrimmed alencon lace gown with bishop sleeves overcuffed with a lantern effect of scalloped embroidered lace. The cadette neckline scalloped with lace extended to a natural waistline with a bibbed bodice. A built-in Chapel train flowed into a full sweep and was completed with a deep scallop of matching lace. A mantilla of silk illusion and matching retrimmed alencon lace fell from a pill box head piece and flowed beyond the length of the gown. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and yellow roses.

Mrs. Samuel M. Butler, Jr. served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Don Kneipp, Miss Sarah Vinson, and Miss Julie Connelly. They wore floor-length gowns of chiffon fashioned with a yellow ruffled yoke and stand-up collar on an empire bodice. Their full bishop sleeves of sheer chiffon were cuffed in ruffles. A softly gathered skirt of yellow, green and apricot floral organza were caught at the waistline in a matching ribbon. They wore picture hats of yellow straw trimmed in illusion and carried baskets of daisies.

Steve Tolleson acted as best man for his brother. Groomsmen were Andy High, Gene Thompson, and Ken McMurrugh. Ushers were Buzz Andrews, Danny Turner, Tom Newton and Jud Martindale, Jr.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Martindale chose a floor-length gown of pink and white voile with matching accessories. Mrs. Tolleson, mother of the groom, wore a floor-length gown of green voile trimmed in white lace with white accessories. Each had a corsage of Cymbidium orchids.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Hope Country Club. Mrs. Thompson Evans, Jr. greeted the guest at the door and introduced them to the receiving line.

The house party consisted of Mrs. Wayne Russell, Mrs. Joy Shaddock, Miss Margaret Best, Miss Linda Wray, Mrs. Tommy Johnston, Miss Paula Mc-Clellan, Miss Ellen Turner and Miss Delia Jordan.

Mrs. John Burgess was seated at the bridesbook.

The bride's table was covered with a white bridal lace cloth caught with nosegays of summer flowers in yellow, apricot and green. The four-tiered wedding cake was accented with collars of flowers of the same colors. The table was centered with an arrangement of the same color flowers and yellow candles. The grooms table was covered with a brown taffeta cloth with bronze flowers and candles.

Misses Diane Kellam, Kristi Kellam, Julie Graves, and Allison Graves dispensed scrolls and rice bags.

For the honeymoon trip the bride wore a navy and white knit suit with matching accessories and pinned her mother's corsage at her shoulder.

After a trip to Florida the couple will be at home at 600 West Ave. B., Hope.

Ramos wins world title

MADRID (AP) — Armando "Mando" Ramos of Los Angeles beat Pedro Carrasco of Spain on points to become the new world lightweight boxing champion in their third controversial World Boxing Council title fight Wednesday night.

Ramos and Carrasco have twice met for the title which was vacant.

In the first, held in Spain, Ramos was disqualified and the bout awarded to Carrasco by the referee. Then the WBC refused to accept the verdict and ordered a rematch.

Ramos won a 15-round split decision in the second fight in Los Angeles but the WBC again refused to give title recognition because the referee and two judges were all from southern California.

In this third bout between Ramos and Carrasco the former was declared the winner on a 15-round decision by a narrow margin of three points.

The Mexican referee, Raimundo Solis gave it to Ramos 144-142. A Californian judge had it for Ramos 146-142 and a Spanish judge had Carrasco ahead 145-142.

Ramos was more aggressive than Carrasco and attacked with a good combination to the face from beginning to the end of the fight.

Carrasco went down twice, once in the first round and again in the second round when Ramos sent terrific lefts and rights to the face and body of the Spaniard.

Ramos tipped the scales at 134½ while Carrasco weighed 134½.

The Spaniard had a cut on the left eyebrow from the second round and bled steadily to the end of the bout which was one of the most exciting ever seen in Madrid.

The estimated 12,000 fans at the Sports Palace booed the decision in the belief Carrasco had been the winner, but Spanish boxing writers agreed in saying "the result was just and Ramos was a deserving winner."

Travelers lose 9-1

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers managed only three hits off Tim Lincecum and took a 9-1 Texas League baseball drubbing at the hands of the Midland Cubs here Wednesday night.

Midland slapped 12 hits, including four by Pete LaCock, who had a homer in his production. He scored three runs and knocked in two others.

LaCock's home run gave Midland a 1-0 lead in the first inning.

Shreveport defeats Amarillo

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stan Martin and Sammy Ashford brought their one-two punch to bear at the right time Wednesday night to give Shreveport a Texas League victory over the West Division-leading Amarillo Giants.

Martin extended his hitting streak to 11 straight games in the fifth inning with a run-scoring single. Ashford followed immediately with an RBI safety which stretched his personal hitting streak to 21 consecutive games.

Their hits broke a 1-1 tie and provided the margin of victory in the 4-1 Shreveport triumph.

In other games, East leader Alexandria beat San Antonio 6-4. Memphis topped El Paso 4-2 and Midland slammed Arkansas 9-1.

Bill Hodge hit a two-run homer in the second inning and added a run-scoring single in the sixth to pace Alexandria's victory over the San Antonio Brewers. Mike Ivie hit his 17th homer for the Aces, who hold a slim half-game lead over second-place Memphis.

The Blues kept pace with Alexandria in the East as Hank Webb pitched and hit Memphis over El Paso. Webb pitched a complete game in notching his third straight victory, although he gave up nine hits—one in every inning but the eighth and the first, when he allowed two hits including a homer by the Sun Dodgers' Jerry Royster. Memphis scored all its runs in the fourth inning, with the decisive tally coming on an RBI single by Webb.

Tonight's games have El Paso at Memphis, Midland at Arkansas and Amarillo at Shreveport. Alexandria and San Antonio are not scheduled.

WHA prepares to meet legal tests

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — The World Hockey Association, especially its legal staff, was interested today in what the Chicago Black Hawks would say when they broke their silence on Bobby Hull jumping from the National Hockey League to become a Winnipeg Jet.

The Black Hawks, who had withheld comment since Hull signed a multiyear, multimillion-dollar contract Tuesday, to coach and play for the Jets, scheduled an 11:30 a.m. (CDT) news conference.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, threw the puck to the Black Hawks Wednesday when he said: "The league has no official status in this. When they (the Black Hawks) review the situation and consult their advisers, I'm sure they will take appropriate steps."

Gary L. Davidson, president of the WHA that already has taken 34 players from the other league for its first season this fall, said his legal staff was ready to meet any legal tests arising from the signing of Hull or other players.

"I'm confident we can prevail," said Davidson, who also was one of the founders of the American Basketball Association. "I'm sure the NHL, and I can speak for the WHA, would not want a long-drawn battle in court. I was told the ABA paid legal fees of more than $1 million last year."

Davidson noted that, while many professional basketball players have been signed by other teams while their old contracts are still in force, the WHA intends to sign only players whose obligations have been met.

NHL teams, however, feel that, even though players have completed a contract, they are bound, under the reserve clause, to serve the team for at least one more season.

Bad Henry's homer wins game

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Everybody knows about Bad Henry's relentless pursuit of the Babe's big record—but now, all of a sudden, it seems he's shooting for another target as well.

Bad Henry, of course, is Hank Aaron of Atlanta, who today is just 61 home runs short of Babe Ruth's all-time major league record of 714.

He got his 653rd career blast Wednesday night against San Diego and, for two reasons, it couldn't have come at a more propitious time.

The more obvious one is that it won the game. It was a two-run, tie-breaking clout in the ninth inning that gave the Braves a 4-2 triumph in the opener of their two-night doubleheader. But he couldn't equal his heroics in the nightcap and the Padres won that one 4-2, ending their latest tailspin at five games.

In other National League games, the New York Mets edged Philadelphia 3-2, Montreal beat Pittsburgh 3-1, Los Angeles blanked Houston 5-0, St. Louis defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-4 and Cincinnati turned back San Francisco 4-2.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox clipped Oakland 6-4, Minnesota nipped California 7-6, Boston flipped Detroit 5-3, Baltimore zipped the New York Yankees 4-0 and Milwaukee swept Cleveland 4-2 and 5-2 in a twilight twinbill.

The fact that Ralph Garr was on base with an infield single was the second reason for the timeliness of Aaron's 14th homer of the season.

Instead of just one run-batted in, it gave him two—and that gave him 1,992 RBI for his career, catapulting him one ahead of Lou Gehrig and into second place behind the Babe's 2,209 on that all-time chart. So suddenly he's on the trail of two incredible records.

"There has been so much talk about trying to break Ruth's home run record," Aaron said between games, "that I hadn't thought much about the RBI thing."

"It's quite an honor, though, to drive in more runs than Gehrig because I've always considered him one of the greatest players in the history of the game."

It appeared Aaron would be able to sit out the second game after his first-game heroics.

Actually, he did—until the ninth inning. In the eighth, run-

Connors goes into third round today

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Jim Connors, 19-year-old left-hander from Belleville, Ill., with all the makings of a future tennis superstar, plays Italy's Adriano Panatta today in the third round of the 86th All-England tournament.

And Mrs. Gloria Connors will be in the stands shouting "let's go."

Her enthusiastic support caused many admonitions from elderly English spectators when Jim smashed seventh-seeded Bob Hewitt of South Africa out of the championships in the first round.

"But what's wrong if I get excited for my boy?" asked his mother.

"I don't mean to annoy or offend anyone. People encourage at other ball games, so why not at tennis?"

A tennis player herself, Mrs. Connors taught her son the rudiments of the game as soon as he could walk, then handed him over to the instruction of Pancho Gonzales at the age of 16.

Connors got into the third round by overwhelming Nicky Kalogeropoulos of Greece 6-3, 7-5, 8-6 Wednesday.

Nine other American men are in the last 32. They are: top-seeded Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif.; Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash.; Erik Van Dillen of San Mateo, Calif.; Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif.; Roscoe Tanner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn.; Dick Sticketon of Port Washington, N.Y.; Mike Estep of Dallas; Alexander Mayer of Woodmere, N.Y.; and Dan Bleckinger of Oshkosh, Wis.

Clark Graebner of New York City, one of the U.S. hopes for the title, was off form and bowed out in the second round to Ilic Nastase of Romania, the No. 2 seed, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Hewitt and Andres Gimeno of Spain were the only seeded players beaten thus far. Gimeno, seeded fourth, lost to Onny Parun of New Zealand.

In the women's division, 17-year-old Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and three-time Wimbledon champion Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif. were among the American winners Wednesday.

Little Chris, winner of the women's title in the London Grass Court Championships, beat Valerie Ziegenfuss of San Diego 1-6, 6-3, 6-3, while Mrs. King ousted Sharon Walsh of San Rafael, Calif., 6-2, 6-0.

Freshman crew enters Regatta

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England (AP) — A freshman crew from Harvard University was entered in the Henley Royal Regatta today and Coach Ted Washburn admitted, "I'm nervous."

The inexperienced American eight was defending the Thames Challenge Cup, won by Harvard's senior lightweights last year.

"We have never entered a freshman crew at Henley before," said Washburn.

"Naturally we hope to win, and this is certainly the best young crew I've coached at Harvard. You can't really expect these youngsters to beat older crews here who are trained up to the minute."

If there are any weaknesses in the opposition, however, my gave Tom Seaver his 10th victory.

But the umpire disagreed, calling it a hit. And, as Robinson hesitated, Marshall took the valuable extra base.

The Expos jumped on nine-game winner Steve Blass for two first-inning runs on a walk, Ron Fairly's triple and Boots Days' single, then rode Bill Stoneman's eight-hitter past the Pirates.

Don Sutton hurled a two-hitter for his fourth shutout of the year and the Dodgers, held hitless by Jerry Reuss through four innings, erupted for three runs in the fifth to down the Astros.

Luis Tiant and Mike Cuellar, two crafty old Cubans, gave the race in the American League East a Latin tempo Wednesday night ... with a big assist from rookie Juan Beniquez.

Tiant, a 32-year-old right-hander from Havana, pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 5-3 victory over Detroit with five innings of one-hit relief.

That sliced the Tigers' lead to one game over Baltimore when Cuellar, a 35-year-old southpaw from Santa Clara, Cuba, hurled the Orioles to a five-hit 5-0 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Elsewhere, the Chicago White Sox downed Oakland 6-4, Minnesota edged California 7-6 and Milwaukee took two from Cleveland 4-2 and 5-2. Texas and Kansas City were not scheduled.

In the National League, the New York Mets nipped Philadelphia 3-2, Montreal shaded

The Harvard eight had a bye in the first round, and today took on London's St. Thomas Hospital in a bid to move into the quarterfinals, over the one-mile, 550-yard River Thames course.

Co-favorite with Harvard for the Thames Cup was an eight from England's Kingston Rowing Club, winner of several recent regattas.

The Kingston crew, more experienced, trains all year on the River Thames, whereas four of the Harvard squad never had rowed before they entered Harvard last October.

Sanders expects to win Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Doug Sanders nominated himself as a favorite for the top prize in the $150,000 Cleveland Open golf tournament, beginning today over the par 71, 6,907-yard Tanglewood Country Club course.

With Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Arnold Palmer among the missing, Sanders said:

"I think I'm going to do real well here, real well. Oh, the course is soft, very soft, but we get to tee up the ball and that will help."

"That's the only way they could have played the tournament. It's just too soft to play regular rules."

Bobby Mitchell, the defending champion, demonstrated what Sanders meant. One of Mitchell's drives in Wednesday's practice round was buried in the fairway, until only about 40 per cent of the ball was above ground.

"When the environment takes charge, there's not much you can do," said Sanders. "Still, it's going to be all right. I think it will take a 272-274, about 10 or 12 under par, to win. Something like that."

Most of his fellow pros didn't think the winner would have to shave that much off par.

Mitchell, who broke the Cleveland Open record in winning last year at Beechmont Country Club with a 262, was optimistic.

"I think, oh, about eight under," he said. "That'll win."

Mitchell worried most about the greens. "They're cutting up. The spikes are going down deep. Those guys who tee off late are going to have some tough putting."

Heavy rain over the last several days turned the Tanglewood fairways and mud covered by a layer of grass. Tournament officials said that the pros could "lift, slide and replace," a formal way of saying winter rules.

Even with this, some pros figure a six-under-par score will be enough to win the $10,000 first prize.

"I think six or seven under par will be good enough to win it," said Larry Zier.

All of the guesses will be optimistic. The 40-year-old Sanders said there was a 50 per cent chance of "intensive" mowing for opening day. "I would can't stand too much mowing and still look like a golf course."

Faced with lockout, drivers plan to report for Schaefer 500

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Faced with a threatened lockout, drivers planned to report to the Pocono International Raceway today for qualifying runs for the $400,000 Schaefer 500 championship auto race.

Track officials had said Wednesday night that the race, one of three 500 milers sanctioned by the United States Auto Club, would be postponed from Sunday and run when a date is agreed on.

They said the track would not be open for any activity today. But William J. Smyth, executive director of the USAC, said if track officials refused to allow qualifying runs to be held, the track would forfeit the $275,000 in prize money it already has posted with the sanctioning body, and its future USAC races will be wiped off the schedule.

Under original plans, the track was to have opened at today for two days of time trials. The track's board chairman, Dr. Joseph Mattioli, told Smyth and other USAC officials at a lengthy meeting Wednesday that Pennsylvania Gov. Milton J. Shapp had "suggested" that the race be postponed.

Mattioli said he agreed, not only because of the governor's interest, but because of what he said was a shortage of firemen, doctors and nurses, and sewage facilities to man the track.

Smyth said he told Mattioli that the USAC would bring in as many doctors and nurses from the Indianapolis Motor Speedway as needed, and also would furnish firemen and laborers to handle the sewage problem.

Pennsylvania suffered almost $2 billion in damages from flooding that accompanied tropical storm Agnes, and is trying to dig itself out.

Rain had shut the 2.5 mile raceway down seven of the 10 days set aside for practice. But the 45 drivers entered had managed a total of 28 hours of practice Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Smyth said the USAC refused to agree to the postponement on grounds that the prerogative to postpone or cancel belongs to the sanctioning body, which takes control of, and runs, the race at its discretion.

"We're ready to run, and our drivers and officials will be at the track at 8 a.m.," Smyth said Wednesday night.

Some drivers agreed with Smyth.

"If they don't let us run, I'll recommend to the other drivers that we let the grass grow tall before we ever race again at Pocono," said Gary Bettenhausen, the driver representative on the USAC Board of Directors.

Ted Mayer, manager of the Gulf-McLaren team that includes Pete Revson and Gordon Johncock, said his drivers would be at the track ready to qualify.

Referring to the letter Dr. Mattioli said he had received from Gov. Shapp, Smyth said he had offered to go to Harrisburg to confer with the governor but got no takers.

Chicago's business district is referred to as "the Loop."

OLD BUT HONEST

CHARLESTON, III (AP) — John M. Gerhardt, 77, who announced that he is a candidate for President of the United States a few weeks ago, now is a member of the "Old Grand-Dad Club," and joins such nationally famous persons as Lawrence Welk, this year's Grand-Dad, and Bob Hope, last year's Grand-Dad.

Gerhardt was honored by the club when it agreed to depart from tradition by making him a member prior to his election to the office of President in recognition of your unique qualifications as a Grand-Dad, as well as a candidate.

Gerhardt threw his hat into the presidential ring full of candidates on the basis that he was "old but honest."

MARS LANDING will be by specially designed parachute in the planned 1976 U.S. unmanned probe of the red planet's surface. Shown in artist's sketch, the 53-foot-diameter parachute and instrument payload will descend through the rarefied martian atmosphere, only 1/160th earth's atmospheric pressure after ejection from the spacecraft that carried them the millions of space miles from earth. Prototype parachutes, are being tested this summer in drops from 146,000-foot altitudes over White Sands Proving Ground in New Mexico.

Opening lead—♦ Q

By Oswald & James Jacoby

MacDuff, the best player in Scotland, needed just one quick look at dummy and the opening lead to see that his three no-trump contract was unbeatable. He was sure of a trick with his king of diamonds and after knocking out the ace of spades would have two spade tricks plus the three top tricks in each of the other suits.

His king of diamonds did win the first trick after Donalbane, sitting East, played the seven. At trick two MacDuff led a spade to dummy's king. Fleance took his ace and led the suit back.

The game was rubber bridge for a shilling a hundred and MacDuff looked carefully at the point score. A quick bit of addition and subtraction showed that an overtrick would be worth a whole shilling and MacDuff decided to go after it.

It looked like a cinch to score a second diamond trick so MacDuff won the spade in his own hand and led a diamond. Fleance, sitting West, showed out and Donalbane collected four diamond tricks.

"Well," said MacDuff. "Greed is a terrible thing. I don't expect to make this bad a play again until Birnam wood doth come to Dunsinane."
